Cathy Jain - Green Screen

'Green Screen' is the lush new single from 16-year old UK musician Cathy Jain. For such a young age it's an astonishing piece of work.

Jain's dreamy vocal will worm it's way in to your heart on this tender and pure track. There is so much beauty in this song that rather than break it down I think you will enjoy it more by just simply listening.

Talking about the song Jain had the following to say:

"Green Screen' is by definition bedroom pop because that's where I wrote it and recorded the vocals, yet it has a genre-defying epic quality with multi-layered harmonies and powerful instrumentation. It's about trying to feel things authentically in a virtual world. It was produced by Heron @ Cracked Analogue and we worked on it remotely as he is currently based in India."

For me this song is a solid 10 out of 10. I think we have a future star on our hands in Cathy Jain.
